Dear Mr. Siegel:

During our meeting of September 2, 1966, we agreed to supply you with our long range plans for mining the ridge area of our quarry. At that time I mentioned that our mining engineer, Jack Lucas, was on vacation and because of this, it would take several weeks to get together this information. Unfortunately, upon return from vacation, Jack was stricken with hepatitis and has not yet returned to work.

We expect that he will be back in another week, at which time he will begin work on this project.

Sincerely yours,
